MORE INFORMATION

Since your studies can bring up problems and questions no MIMSA lecture might be able to answer, we'd like to offer you a new program to get better and more targeted support from fellow students – MIMSA consultations.

If you're struggling with studies generally, have questions in a specific field or would like some overall feedback, leave your information in the form linked in the bio and we'll get in touch to arrange a consultation time as soon as possible.

We'll match you with a suitably skilled team member according to your request.
